14th Annual Conference on Architectures and Mechanisms for Language
Processing

4-6 September 2008, Cambridge, UK

Academic Programme

Wednesday 3rd September

15.00-17.00  Pre-conference Registration, Centre for Speech, Language and the Brain, William Hardy Building, Downing Street (for map click here)

18.30-20.00  Welcome reception, Newnham College

Thursday 4th September

08.00-09.10  Registration, Queens’ College

09.10-09.20  Welcome

Session 1 – Syntactic processes in comprehension - 1
Chair: Fernanda Ferreira

09.20-09.40  O1 Sturt, P., Keller, F., & Dubey, A. Syntactic priming in comprehension without lexical repetition.

09.40-10.00  O2 Huettig, F., Chen, J., Bowerman, M., & Majid, A. Linguistic relativity: Evidence from Mandarin speakers’ eye-movements

10.00-10.20  O3 Yoshida, M., Dickey, M-W., & Sturt, P. Sluicing and syntactic prediction in online sentence processing
10.20-10.50 Coffee

Session 2 – Discourse constraints in comprehension

Chair: Alan Garnham

10.50-11.10 O4 Kreiner, H., Mohr, S., Kessler, K., & Garrod, S. The interaction between discourse constraints and gender agreement in lexical and stereotypical role nouns: Evidence from ERP

11.10-11.30 O5 Ferguson, H.J., & Breheny, R. Investigating the automaticity of predicting deception in a theory of mind task

11.30-11.50 O6 Arnold, J.E., & Lao, S-Y.C. Non-joint attention influences pronoun comprehension

11.50-12.10 O7 Richardson, D.C., Dale, R., Kirkham, N.Z., & Tomlinson, J. Conversation, common ground and gaze coordination

12.10-14.30 Lunch and Poster Session 1

14.30-15.30 KN1 Rebecca Gómez
Constraining children’s generalizations: processing constraints on language learning

Introduced and chaired by Lorraine K Tyler

Session 3 – Visual language processing

Chair: Pienie Zwitserlood

15.30-15.50 O8 Thompson, R.L., Vinson, D.P., Jin, M., Pickering, M.J, & Vigliocco, G. Seeing the world through a visual language: Visual word paradigm in British Sign Language

15.50-16.10 O9 Orfanidou, E., Adam, R., & McQueen, J.M. Are non-lexical transitions between signs a segmentation cue in British Sign Language?

16.10-16.40 Coffee

Session 4 – Speech perception

Chair: Matthew Davis

16.40-17.00 O10 Mattys, S.L., & Cooke, M. Effects of perceptual and cognitive loads on speech segmentation

17.00-17.20 O11 Reinisch, E., Jesse, A., & McQueen, J.M. Speaking rate affects the perception of word boundaries in online word recognition

17.20-17.40 O12 Snoeren, N.D., Gaskell, G., & Di Betta, A.M. The perception of assimilation in newly learned novel words
Friday 5th September

08.00-09.20  Registration, Queens’ College

Session 5 – Language Production – 1
Chair: Martin Pickering

09.20-09.40  O13 Shafto, M.A., Stamatakis, E.A., Tam, P.P., & Tyler, L.K.
Senior moments and the brain: Convergent measures and an aging network

09.40-10.00  O14 Hartsuiker, R.J., & Anton-Mendez, I.
Interaction and interactivity in language production

10.00-10.20  O15 Vernice, M., & Hartsuiker, R.J.
Determinants of function assignment in language production: Is conceptual accessibility enough?

10.20-10.50  Coffee

Session 6 – Syntactic processes in comprehension – 2
Chair: Patrick Sturt

10.50-11.10  O16 Apel, J., Henderson, J.M., & Ferreira, F.
The perceptual span during regressions in garden path sentences

11.10-11.30  O17 Tily, H., Hemforth, B., Arnon, I., Shuval, N., Snider, N., & Wasow, T.
Eye movements reflect comprehenders’ knowledge of syntactic structure probability

11.30-11.50  O18 Arai, M., & Keller, F.
The use of verb-specific information for prediction in sentence processing

11.50-12.10  O19 Kuperman, V., Vitoria, P., & Schreuder, R.
Bridging locality and anti-locality effects in the processing of long-distance syntactic dependencies

12.10-14.30  Lunch and Poster Session 2

14.30-15.30  KN2 William Marslen-Wilson
The neurobiological foundations of spoken language comprehension
Introduced and chaired by Kathleen Rastle
Session 7 – Lexical semantics
Chair: Gabriella Vigliocco

15.30-15.50 O20 Ford, M.A., Randall, B., Taylor, K.I., Devereux, B.J., & Tyler, L.K. Semantic features and the computation of word meaning: A large correlational semantic decision study

15.50-16.10 O21 Vinson, D.P., Skinner, R., Thompson, R.L., & Vigliocco, G. The link between meaning and form in British Sign Language: Role of iconic properties in lexical and conceptual processing

16.10-16.40 Coffee

Session 8 – Language acquisition
Chair: Rebecca Gómez

16.40-17.00 O22 Bannard, C., Lieven, E.V.M., & Tomasello, M. Evaluating constructivist theory via Bayesian modeling of children’s early grammatical development

17.00-17.20 O23 Franck, J., Millotte, S., & Frauenfelder, U.H. Early word order representation: Evidence against the lexical hypothesis

19.00 Conference Dinner, St John’s College

Saturday 6th September

08.00-09.20 Registration, Queens’ College

Session 9 – Language Production
Chair: Victor Ferreira

09.20-09.40 O25 Huettig, F., & Hartsuiker, R.J. External vs. internal verbal self-monitoring: Speakers listen to their own external, but not internal, speech in speech production

09.40-10.00 O26 Carbary, K.M., & Tanenhaus, M.K. Syntactic priming and message encoding in unscripted dialogue

10.00-10.20 O27 Langus, A., & Nespor, M. Communication and grammar do not rely on the same cognitive system

10.20-10.50 Coffee
Session 10 – Lexical processing: phonology and morphology

Chair: William Marslen-Wilson

10.50-11.10 O28 Bozic, M., Tyler, L.K., & Marslen-Wilson, W.D. Neuro-cognitive systems supporting derivational morphology

11.10-11.30 O29 WITHDRAWN Reilly, E., Solomyak, O., Marantz, A., & Badecker, W. Full parsing versus dual route models of morphological processing: Assessing surface frequency effects on response time using MEG

11.30-11.50 O30 Salverda, A.P., & Tanenhaus, M.K. Orthographic and phonological information in the printed-words paradigm

11.50-12.10 O31 Rastle, K., Havelka, J., & Wydell, T. The cross-script length effect on reading aloud: Further challenges for PDP models

12.10-14.30 Lunch and Poster Session 3

14.30-15.30 KN3 Jonathan Grainger

Cracking the orthographic code

Introduced and chaired by James McQueen

Session 11 – Discourse processes

Chair: Jennifer Arnold

15.50-16.20 Coffee

Session 11 continued

16.20-16.40 O33 Barr, D.J. Evidence for a dissociation between pragmatic and semantic constraint in lexical processing

16.40-17.00 O34 Paterson, K.B., Filik, R., Mousoulidou, M., & Moxey, L.M. Interpreting quantifiers in context

17.00-17.10 Concluding remarks
Poster Sessions

Poster Session 1 - Thursday 4th September (12.10-14.30)

P1 Roland, D. Relative clauses and surprisal
P2 Dikker, S., Rabagliati, H.A., Farmer, T.A., & Pyllkänen, L. Sensitivity to syntax in visual cortex: The role of phonological typicality
P3 Moat, S., Corley, M., & Hartsuiker, R.J. Exchange rate woes for the spreading activation model too: A large-scale investigation
